

Foyle International Privacy Policy (Summary)

Foyle International protects the personal information of students, staff, parents, visitors, agents, and other contacts. This page explains how we use personal data in a simple way.

What we collect

We may collect names, contact details, date of birth, course or booking information, attendance records, emergency contact details, payment information, and other information needed to provide our services safely.

Why we use it

We use personal information to manage enquiries and enrolments, teach and support students, communicate with families or agents, meet legal and safeguarding duties, keep records, and improve our services.

Who we share it with

We only share information when it is necessary and lawful. This may include sharing with staff, safeguarding agencies, emergency services, examination bodies, agents, guardians, or professional advisers.

How we keep it safe

We take reasonable steps to keep personal data secure and limit access to staff who need it.

How long we keep it

We keep personal information only for as long as needed or as required by law.

Your rights

You may have rights to access your data, ask for correction, ask for deletion in some cases, and raise concerns about how your information is used.
